PRINCIPAL’S MESSAGE

Fond Farewells to Year 12, 2013
This week we paid tribute to the outgoing HSC class of 2013. We are enormously proud of their contribution to the school and their families. There are so many talented and conscientious students who have given their all. On behalf of the teaching, administrative staff and students in Year 7 – 11, I would like to wish them well for their upcoming HSC exams.

By way of celebrating their time at Castle Hill High School, the school continued its tradition of holding a whole-school farewell assembly (with lots of fun and performances, including the now-famous drama skit) on Wednesday morning, a formal graduation ceremony in front of proud parents and guests followed by delicious refreshments on Thursday morning and culminating in the Year 12 formal, held at ANZ Stadium at Homebush on Thursday evening. It was a fitting tribute to a wonderful year. We will miss them.

Of course, the celebrations are now over so it’s back to the grindstone and back to the books. Students will be focused on timetabled study complemented by our twilight and holiday tutoring program, generously funded by the P and C. An annual event, students have the opportunity to book a teacher/s on a specific day and have lengthy one on one advice and tutoring to overcome the nerves, refine responses, discuss difficult concepts and gain some reassurance. It’s a service we have pleasure in giving. Again, our P and C takes pride in funding this program for which we are very grateful.

As usual, I have reproduced my speech given to Year 12 at their graduation.
I am once again delighted to speak with you today on the eve of a major transition. You are graduating from Year 12, from six years at CHHS and from schooling as you have known it, for the past thirteen years. It’s a rite of passage, from child and teen to adult, from innocence to experience, from dependence to independence. It’s one of the big changes and great challenges of your life: leaving the nest, branching out to a largely unfamiliar and unknown landscape and taking a plunge; a plunge to learn the four Rs – remembrance, reminiscence, reflection and resilience.

As you branch out, you will be tempted to reminisce, in particular on your senior years with us and also on your education generally from way back at the turn of the century, in 2000, when you were in kindergarten. You won’t reminisce about grades, marks, hard work, study guides, tests, relentless study ……..the grind. You will reminisce about good times, good people, fun, risks, temptations. You’ll see hints of CHHS in simple things in your new life beyond the school boundary.

- You’ll hear a clarinet and immediately think of Camilla – what a joy she brought with her skill.
- You’ll encounter genuine, likeable, charismatic politeness and think of Kyall. Long live this characteristic, Kyall.
- You’ll meet people able to laugh at themselves and able to make other people laugh and, of course, you’ll remember Nikki.
- You’ll come across vibrant pranksters with a cheeky sense of fun and charisma and naturally you’ll think of Marty Sheridan.
- You’ll encounter humble, decent, mild mannered sports nuts and think fondly of Matthew Hall.
- You’ll hear bluesy music and catch Katherine’s soulful sounds.

I think you’ll remember the creativity in this year. You’ll see colours and remember Emma Chivers’ pink hair or Annie Bai’s green hair or Nicki Lotfi’s two shades of hair. And then you’ll think of those with no hair and remember when Zee and others shaved for charity. Those memories will come flooding back. They will bring a smile and a yearning familiarity.

But as you grow, you’ll do more than reminisce and remember. I hope you will reflect – mostly about yourself - in a dispassionate but careful and caring way. Reflection is one of the most underestimated, necessary skills in life. Meaningful reflection requires quiet, deep thought to examine what was done, said or achieved. Reflection of self requires you to judge yourself with some key questions. What did I do for others that made me proud? What was the best thing that happened to me? How did I handle myself? Did I escalate or deescalate the situation? How can I change things? Reflection is the essential ingredient of resilience. You’ll notice that there is no question: How many prizes did I win? Or, did I come first? Or, am I the dominant one, the most popular one? Note to self: do these things really matter in a world where good people seek happy, fulfilling lives?

My favourite kind of people, are resilient ones. They've usually done it tougher than most. They've had to bounce back and fight for joy, or a new definition of success, or a different perspective on happiness. They’re fighters and strugglers, these resilient types. They’ve got grit and determination. In fact, I’d like to dedicate today’s address to an anonymous Year 12 student amongst you. Her levels of resilience over the years have been tested and stretched. When she saw me two weeks ago with her mother she was down – but not out – and feeling that she had been on the wrong side of success. She felt that she had constantly missed out. What I am about to say is for her, in particular, but for all of you as you embark on your journey from the known to the unknown, to a world where resilience is vital, to be the best you can be. What I would say to you is this: you cannot enjoy success if you haven’t had failure and you can’t really understand success if you don’t redefine it. J K Rowling is more elegant: “It’s impossible to live without failing……..unless you live so cautiously that you might as well not have lived at all – in which case you fail by default.” It’s paradoxical isn’t it? You have to fail before you understand success. The notion of what it means to be successful in this materialistic, accountable, competitive world will challenge you. Do you fail if you don’t come first or don’t score the prize? Are you a failure if you’re a Honda and not a Ferrari? Or you’re the Queensland Cowboys and you actually do fail – but you really won?! Do you succeed and win many prizes, but take performance enhancing drugs? Do you succeed in winning the prize but your relationships are in tatters? Are you successful as a prime minister if you’re ousted in your first term by your own party? James Packer who appears to have embraced the notion “Less is not more” – is he successful? If he is successful, is he happy? What does it all mean? Failure and success are intertwined and are mutually compatible necessities – JK Rowling is certainly saying this. Failure is absolutely necessary and is almost certainly a precursor to success – whatever that is. Life really is about shades of grey.

In may ways the four Rs, if pursued, will help you search for your inner contentment. Reminisce and remember fond times and people, reflect on your worth in terms of how you behave, what you value and how good you are to others, and finally embrace resilience by dusting yourself off, standing up straight, looking the world between the eyes positively and affirmatively and saying “I am worthy”.

Year 12, go forth, ask yourself hard questions, challenge yourself to learn about optimism and embrace the ambiguities of failure.

Speech to Year 12 Students from Year 7 Students Emma Peake and Rudraksh Ali

Congratulations Year 12 – You made it!

Do you remember your first year at Castle Hill High School? It’s hard to picture the high and mighty Year 12s as tiny, helpless and lost Year 7’s like us. Fast forward 6 years and look at what you’ve accomplished and what you’ve become. You’ve made lifelong friendships, gained valuable knowledge and wisdom, succeeded in so many aspects of school life and learnt algebra which thank goodness, you will probably never have to use again.

We wish you all of the best of luck as you embark on the next chapter of your life. You can choose where you want to go in life, take up any career you want and earn money of your own, hopefully meaning you wont have to ask us for 50c and push into the canteen line.

When we first came to school, we thought the Year 12s were big, tall and scary people who were always in a rush to be somewhere, often resulting in a lot of pushing, shoving and Year 7s being trampled. But we were only half right. We still get pushed around and caught in the crowd, but we have come to realise that Year 12 are great, funny, high spirited people who love to laugh and joke around, but are willing to work hard and maximize their potential. Some are crazier than others, showing their true colours at the Athletics and Swimming carnival wearing onesies of all animals and styles. But all are amazing people and excellent role models.

You have inspired us to be like you. You inspire us to do well in school and never give up on anything. Yes, we literally have to look up to see you. You have paved the way for us to follow in your footsteps and you often give us the extra push to keep studying and to pursue our goals. The way you speak, act and lead the school is very admirable and for this, we highly respect you. We may not know all of your names, but thanks to your jersey messages, we do know some of your nicknames: Camillest, Photosynthesis, Hall of Fame, Ben 10, and who could forget the poor starving child who needs “Sponsoring.”

In Year 7 we walked through those double doors and into the start of our time at Castle Hill High School. Today you will walk out of those same doors signifying the start of a new beginning and the next stage in your lives. We know you will never forget the memories, friendships and experiences you’ve lived at Castle Hill, and in closing, we would like to quote the Terminator. “Strength does not come from winning. Your struggles develop your strengths. When you go through hardships and decide not to surrender, that is great strength.” Farewell Year 12.
More Farewells
Mr Greg O'Regan has been at Castle Hill High School for twenty-two years, a long time in anyone’s career. As Head Teacher of HSIE, he leaves us this term for a new direction – sailing and wood crafting could be two of them – and will leave behind many fond memories of a career that was satisfying and stimulating. Greg, together with his family, faculty and other members of staff had a lovely evening of warm memories and speeches last week to honour his career. We wish him well and thank him for his dedicated service to this fine school.

NAPLAN – Year 7 and 9 parents
The Australian Curriculum and Reporting Authority (ACARA) has just announced that due to some technical difficulties, parents will not receive student NAPLAN results until October. This is later than anticipated. We will distribute those results as soon as they become available to the school.

The Telstra issue
Our community has been working tirelessly - lobbying, writing letters, signing petitions, researching, accessing local primary schools, accessing experts and planning strategy - to overturn a decision made by Telstra to install a tower on the top of Castle Hill RSL, 200 metres from the school’s boundary. There is evidence that suggests that emissions from such towers are carcinogenic for those with a vulnerability. We say this is far too risky. We want Telstra to take a cautionary approach for the long term safety and wellbeing of the community and, in particular, the young people who attend this school. We want Telstra to abide by the Department of Education and Communities’ policy which has “a preference for a distance of at least 500 metres from the boundary of the school”. It is telling that Telstra, when asked, will not give a written guarantee that the proposed tower opposite our school will be safe.

We are hoping that the Minister for Education, Adrian Piccoli and our local members, Dominic Perrotet, David Elliott and Alex Hawke can move mountains and have this tower relocated to another site, away from a place where exposure to young people is unrelenting.

Thank you for your constant emails of support, your contact with the RSL, your letters to politicians, your work on petitions and your determination to win this.

Watch this space for banners outside the school fence (organised by our P and C) and our electronic sign which features messages from students calling on Telstra to overturn their decision.

The holidays await
It has been a very busy term, as always. The holidays are nearly upon us and it’s fair to say we are all very much looking forward to them.

Again, can I thank the community for their constant support, tenacity and determination to work with the school for the benefit of students and their learning.

The Maths Faculty celebrates:

Spirit Week

The Maths Faculty joined in the festivities of Spirit Week by inviting a troupe of “gypsies” to the school on Monday, 19th August. The school was entertained at lunchtime in the Quad by gypsy musicians, dancers, and a mysterious fortune teller, Madame Zenda. Gypsy food items including Hungarian Goulash, Turkish Delight slices and jam donuts were on sale. A total of $149 was raised for charity.

and Maths Week (starting 21/7)

Most of us oldies remember the days before calculators and computers at school, when we had to use 22/7 for the approximation for π. The Maths Faculty could not resist celebrating the 22nd July (22/7) with not only one day of fun activities for the students, but an entire week!

On Monday we had a “pi” eating competition (pardon the pun). The students were blindfolded and had to eat their pies with knives and forks. The winner, who took only a matter of seconds, was Jeong Hur.

Tuesday Trivia was taken over by Maths, and at lunchtime, the final of the Year 7 Times Table Competition was held (winner Jessica Ding), as well as a Paper Plane Competition in the Quad – winner Michael Symonds Year 8.

A Sudoku Challenge was held on Wednesday - the Masters were Ryan Nichols and Lucas Yeo- and sectors and segments of pizza were sold at lunchtime.

A Maths Treasure Hunt was conducted on Thursday as well as a Tower Building from cards Competition (winner Mitchell Perl).

Friday brought a “Maths in Movies” Marathon, complete with popcorn, and a display of paper models was on display also. The winner of the week-long M&M Guessing Competition was Sunny Wang.

Students who took part in the activities had a gr8 time, won some c.l prizes, and realised that Maths is number –e”π.”
MATHEMATICS IN YEAR 9 FROM 2014

With the introduction of the new National Syllabus in Mathematics from the start of 2014, we have decided to change the way we grade and assess students when they enter Year 9. We have successfully graded Year 10 in this way in 2013. There will be three “levels” of Mathematics, and students will be placed into these levels according to their achievement level during Year 7 and Year 8. There will be three different levels of exams in each term. Half Yearly and Yearly reports will be based on the level of Mathematics attempted by each student.

5.3 ADVANCED LEVEL
5.2 STANDARD LEVEL
5.1 FUNDAMENTAL LEVEL

Given that class organisation will depend on individual results during both Year 7 and Year 8, it is important for students to do their best in every single assessment task. Any student may attempt the assessments at a higher level if they wish to, once they have done the class level assessment. This also allows us to accurately adjust the classes during the year.

When students enter the senior school (for the Higher School Certificate), the general selection process follows the level at which the student has achieved during Year 9 and 10.
5.3 mastery .... 2 unit Mathematics or Extension 1 Mathematics.
5.2 mastery .... 2 unit Mathematics or Mathematics General 2.
5.1 mastery .... Mathematics General 2 or Mathematics General 1.

Please contact me if you would like to discuss this matter.

LANGUAGES ALIVE

Term Three has also been an eventful time for the Languages Department.

HSC Speaking Examinations
Our HSC French and Japanese students completed their HSC Speaking examinations in August. These are held on a Saturday and students are expected to maintain a conversation about their personal world for ten minutes. Although this can be quite stressful for most candidates, we are confident that our students were well-prepared for the exam and many reported that the experience was ultimately quite enjoyable.

Visit of Onojo City Schools
During August our school hosted a visit from fourteen students and two teachers from five schools from Onojo City in Japan. The students were billeted in the homes of their Castle Hill partners for six nights.

Upon arrival the Onojo students enjoyed a tour of the school, a welcome party and then they entertained their partners with games and musical performances in English and Japanese.

During their stay, the Japanese students and their partners had the opportunity to participate in a variety of excursions and activities. They enjoyed a movie and pizza party in the Common room at school on Friday evening. A wonderful visit to the Australian Reptile Park at Somersby provided our visitors with a chance to view and interact with Australian fauna at close range. As part of our Linkages program, Onojo students also visited Castle Hill Public School and taught the younger students origami and Japanese characters.

They also attended classes with their partners in order to experience at first hand an Australian high school. The delicious morning tea and farewell party, together with final speeches and the exchange of gifts, provided a fitting conclusion to a highly successful visit.

Such visits enable students to appreciate and accept the differences and similarities shared by both cultures. They are the results of months of planning and preparation. All members of the Languages staff worked hard to make this visit a success and are to be congratulated for their efforts. I would particularly like to commend Mrs Kris Baker for her energy, patience and organisational skills. We are also particularly grateful to the families of Rudraksh Ali, Alaina Baker, Lillian Burke, Jessica Ding, Jeremy Grierson, Landy Huang, Annabel Lennon, Charlotte Ozer, Tanja Reynolds, Solomon Roper, Romal Sellapperuma, Oliver Waterfield, Lili Whittle, Cassidy and Shannon Williams and Kristin Wilson who welcomed their Japanese guests into their homes.

Without the ongoing support of the CHHS community, these visits would not be able to continue. We look forward to reciprocal hospitality when our students visit Japan next year.

15’s Boys Basketball

On Friday 13 September, the Castle Hill High School 15’s Basketball team competed in the Sydney West Regional Trials. The team was drawn against Quakers Hill High School, Rooty Hill High School and Nepean High School in the group stage and were successful in winning every game. This placed the team into the semi-finals against Penrith High School. The boys had a slow start to the game and were behind by ten points early in the first half and showed determination and competitiveness to get back into the game. The second half was where the boys started to dominate the game and eventually ran out winners. This result placed the team into the final against Girraween High School. The game was a close battle, deep into the second half until the boys pushed ahead of their opposition through the effective completion of offensive plays and a well organised defence to score a well deserved win. All of the boys in the team are to be commended for their exemplary behaviour and attitude on and off the court.

A special thanks to all the parents and grandparents who attended on the day and supported the team. The 15’s Boys are Sydney West Regional champions for 2013 and now play Rose Bay Secondary College in the state draw early next term at school.

Players: Daniel Burgess, Joel Erickson, Ethan Gardiner, Jared Hart, Connor Holmes, Landy Huang, Matthew Ncube, Wyatt Rey, Kyle Serrett and Andrew Zhang.

What was your highlight of the Gala Day? My highlight of the Gala Day was playing 5 games of basketball with my teammates. The most exciting game was the Semifinal against Penrith High School. Penrith had won multiple games by 30-40 points and were a very strong team. Ten minutes into the game we were down 15-2, however, we managed to claw our way back into the game and we eventually won by 3 points.

What do you enjoy about playing basketball? I enjoy the fast pace of the game and the fact that you always have the chance to make a good play, both on offence and defence. My favourite part of the game is scoring.

Do you play basketball outside of school? If so, who with. Yes, this is my first year playing basketball outside of my school and I play with Kyle Serret, Wyatt Rey and a group of friends from our school. Our Grand Final for the comp is this Wednesday.

What training does the school team do for Basketball? Our team trains every Tuesday morning before school. We practise layups, shooting, passing, defence and usually have a game at the end of practice.

What position does each member of the team play?
Guards: Daniel Burgess, Ethan Gardiner and Jared Hart and Landy Huang, Forwards: Joel Erickson, Matt Ncube, Kyle Serret and Andrew Zhang
Centers: Wyatt Rey and Connor Holmes

What is the next step for the U15’s Basketball team? As we were undefeated in the Gala Day and won the Grand Final to become Sydney West Regional Champions, we now enter the State Draw for U15’s Basketball. For our next game we are playing Rose Bay Secondary College, which will be played early next term at Castle Hill High.

Thanks for the interview

CANTEEN NEWS

Term 4 will see some really exciting changes in the school canteen.

Keep an eye out for the new summer menu. Along with the usual favourites, we are introducing a make your own salad option. Students and teachers can order a salad combination of their choice from a variety of ingredients (Options will include various salad greens, cherry tomatoes, crunchy Chinese noodles etc and several salad dressing choices). Prices will vary according to what ingredients are chosen.

With the return of summer, cool food will definitely be popular. In addition to salads, we are also selling Sushi for $3.00 and Rice Paper Rolls for $3.50, which are made freshly everyday – these are already being trialled at the canteen and have been a real “hit”.

We are always looking for new ideas in the canteen. If you have any suggestions or would like to come along and volunteer some time or to have a look at what we do, just call 9634 1188. Parents are always welcome.

NSW PS Millennium Marching Band

at Operation Art (The Armory) and Primary Proms (Sydney Town Hall) September 2013

The MMB opened the Premier’s Operation Art with a march from the Armory Museum along the train tracks, (not easy when playing an instrument at the same time), then gave two performances during the day. The music set included moves to Thriller, Louie Louie, I Want You Back, Don’t Stop Believing, Eye of the Tiger, I Feel Good, Thriller and Spain.

MMB performed amongst the audience at the Primary Proms on 16/9/13 with a surround sound Magical Mystery Tour. The audience was surprised and amazed as MMB filled the Sydney Town Hall with music by The Beatles.

The band is preparing for Schools Spectacular 2013 and the major USA tour (Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle) in September, 2015. The MMB is looking for instrumentalists (e.g. trombone, tuba/sousaphone, flute, trumpet, clarinet, sax, euphonium, drummers/percussion) and colour guard (anyone who likes to dance/move) for 2013, 2014 and the 2015 tour.

Join Cameron Anderson (Year 12), Lachlan Anderson and David Clarke (both Year 8) in the MMB for fantastic music and performance opportunities (and a trip to USA!). Google - Millennium Marching Band Apply 2013.
